The new collection by Luigi Borrelli is a tribute to the colors and sensations of the Italian landscapes. Clothes that are meant not to be simply worn, but lived. Each garment is designed to conquer the man who doesn't want to give up the legendary style of Neapolitan tailoring and who feels the need to stand out. Proudly handmade, this line is the result of knowledge handed down for generations and of the search for superior quality materials. An act of love towards the land that inspires us and towards the people who choose us.
